

Semester evaluations, Study Board for Cross-Cultural Studies (CCG and Tourism),
Spring 2017
CCG

Unfortunately the response rate is not satisfactory at all. Out of a total of 186 students only 58 filled out the survey. This is a response rate on 31% - however, this includes both 8. Semester students (36) and 10. Semester students (22) and offers a very low response rate for the 8th semester. This is disappointing as we also initiated efforts to improve the response rate.

It is positive to see that a majority (73%) is spending between 30-40 or 40 hours or more on their studies. 25% spend between 20-30 hours and very less than that. It has been, and still is, a goal for the Study Board to maintain a high level of study activity. This is also the self-perception of the students where a total of 89% evaluate their own work efforts to be satisfactory.

Respondents are divided between feeling well-informed about coherence between study activities in the semester (49% agrees or completely agrees, 15% disagrees). A majority are positive towards knowledge of the programme modules (77%), and find that the academic outcome of attending the programme has been 'big' or 'very big' (60% combined) or 'average' (38%). Only one students assess it to be small.

A majority of the respondents took part in group work while writing projects. A large majority also states that the group work went well (56% completely agree and 39% agree). One person disagreed or completely disagreed in this statement. 39% completed the project in cooperation with an external collaborator. 8 students took a study visit abroad. All of them would recommend other students to do so as well.

71% completely agrees or agrees to feeling well-informed about practical issues, 4% disagree to this fact. Most of the qualitative answers point to some confusion regarding the submission of the thesis and problems with a lecturer in one particular course. Both have been handled.

The opinion of the physical conditions have improved. No one finds them to be not satisfactory or average (18%) satisfactory.

It is satisfactory to see that 69% agree or completely agree on experiencing a well functioning study community and that 66% agree or completely agree to thriving on their education. Two students answer negatively.
